Outcome Tracker

Instructions: This activity tracker shows how the positive actions you take (and are within your control) can help you achieve desired outcomes (interviews and job offers). Your actions create positive results. Be prepared to review and discuss this with your accountability partner during your weekly meetings.

NOTE: There is a natural 'lag' between your actions and outcomes, your actions will create results in later weeks. This encourages you to 'keep your funnel full' - even if you have interviews - you create your opportunities in future weeks by actions you take today.
